

Tim Dupree
President, Kelly® Professional & Industrial

“Organizations can only succeed when their people grow and thrive. I’m proud and humbled to lead a business where both organizational and personal growth are at the very heart of everything that we do.”

Tim Dupree brings passion for growth to his role as senior vice president at Kelly® and president of Kelly Professional & Industrial. With his vast experience in operations, sales, and design, Tim is focused on driving profitable growth and increased specialization in Kelly’s largest and longest-standing portfolio—comprising businesses for office professionals, finance, contact center, and light industrial talent across the United States, Canada, and Puerto Rico.

Previously, as senior vice president and chief growth officer, Tim accelerated Kelly’s transition into a specialty talent company. He led the charge to execute Kelly’s long-term strategy, facilitated collaboration across the organization, and developed metrics and accountability mechanisms to ensure Kelly’s teams prioritized growth mandates and met expectations. Tim’s deep experience in growing the Kelly brand has resulted in solutions that have expanded and deepened customer and partner relationships.

Tim joined Kelly in 2000 in an operations role in North Carolina. During his tenure, he has held positions of increasing responsibility within the global solutions and corporate accounts teams, including senior vice president and managing director of global service, and vice president and group leader of global solutions design.

Tim earned a Bachelor of Science in Business and Marketing from Gardner-Webb University and completed the International Business Studies Program at Franklin College in Lugano, Switzerland. He is certified in Human Capital Strategy and Strategic Workforce Planning and is the author of “Journey to Talent Supply Chain Management.” Tim is a member of the Strategic Advisory Board for the International Association of Outsourcing Professionals (IAOP), has been named to the 2023 and 2022 Staffing Industry Analysts (SIA) Staffing 100, and has been featured among a select group of professionals on Supply & Demand Chain Executive's "Pros to Know" list.
